A slice of Americana awaits you in this beautiful, but growing, small town located in glorious Northwest Washington State nestled between the Cascades/Mount Rainer and the Puget Sound.

Though incorporated in 1951, the area was first seen by outsiders in 1792, when British Captain George Vancouver and a party of explorers cruised down the body of water he named Puget Sound. In 1833, the Hudson's Bay Company set up shop on the site in a trading post called Fort Nisqually and in time our town would host a major U.S. scientific expedition which is still landmarked today.

In 1906, E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Co. acquired the property from a variety of owners and became the company town for The DuPont Company. The City of DuPont is listed in the National Register of Historic Places as the only former company town in the state in which most of the homes maintain historic integrity. Beautiful new homes, golf courses along with other outdoor activities and recreation abound in DuPont.
