

City of... Camano Island

Camano Island has it all--from thousands of acres of unspoiled hills to miles of uncrowded Puget Sound shoreline, from the raccoons and deer populating stately evergreen forests to bald eagles and blue herons along the beach. And it's easily accessible by bridge--no waiting for ferries here!

Small county parks at Utsalady Bay and Cavalero Beach offer boaters convenient free launch sites. At beautiful Camano Island State Park, Sunday afternoon strollers will find easy beach access. Also provided are picnic shelters, campsites, beach combing and boat launch...plus breathtaking views of Puget Sound and the Olympic Mountains across yachtsmen's popular waterway, Saratoga Passage.
