The city of Issaquah, known as the “Trailhead City”, is centered within the Issaquah Alps (Cougar, Squak and Tiger Mountains), which attracts outdoor enthusiasts including hikers, birdwatchers and paragliders. The backdrop mountains are mostly snow-free due to their low elevation and present many exploring opportunities throughout the year. Conveniently located just East off I-90 from Downtown Seattle. Issaquah has been named one of the best cities to live and visit with historic homes to the new and upcoming neighborhoods, downtown shops and popular Annual Salmon Days Festival.
