University Place is a new city with a rich history. In the late 1800s, it was proposed that a university be located and built in the community. However, financial worries and concerns eventually canceled any plans to build a university here. Nevertheless, the community became known as the “university place”.

Since then University Place has become a suburban residential community, proud of its history, eager to retain its unique quality of life and is growing to be more hip and attractive to newcomers.
